

Home Price Index

Think lately about your home's value?

Many homeowners are curious about the value of their home. As you may be aware, home values in Plainfield and the surrounding area are forever fluctuating. Simply fill out the quick form below to calculate an estimate of your home's worth right now.

This tool uses the Freddie Mac House Price Index (FMHPI) to estimate the value of your home by taking into account the appreciation rate for your region. While the number it comes up with may not be the actual or appraised value of your home, it can be a useful tool to gauge fluctuations and trends in your market which affect your home's value.

Let me help with all your home marketing decisions, including determining the best asking price. I know the particulars of your neighborhood and the values of homes. I can show you what your home may really be worth. If you have questions regarding real estate call me at 317-536-7325.

Please share the following information with me and I can estimate your home's value.

- Property Address: Address, City, State, Zip
- When did you purchase your home?
- How much did you pay for your home?
- Name: First and last name
- Email address & Phone